A. INTRODUCTION

At IndoStar Capital Finance Limited (hereinafter referred to as “Company” or “IndoStar”), we consider corporate governance as an integral part of good management and understand the importance of doing business the right way. In order to set out good corporate governance structure within the Company has adopted this Code of Conduct- (“Code”).

Our Code of Conduct is an explicit declaration of our values, and a written commitment of our collective and shared responsibility which applies to everyone working with or on behalf of IndoStar, including employees, contingent staff (including off roll employees), the board of directors, customers, shareholders, vendors, service providers, other business partners and government regulators (hereinafter referred to as “Stakeholders”).

The Code sets forth the standards of conduct for the Stakeholders. We encourage you to read this Code from time to time. As a guiding principle, Stakeholders should ask themselves whether their actions are reasonably likely to give rise to a situation that could negatively affect or cause embarrassment to their reputation or that of the Company. To ensure that proper guidance is available to all employees, a set of policies as a part of this document or distinct policies linked to this document covers the ethical, moral and legal aspects that are important for the Company. If you need help finding or understanding a code of conduct or policy, please speak with your department/function head or the compliance function/ department. The Code should be read in conjunction with applicable regulations and all the policies of the Company. Further, it should be borne in mind that if stricter norms are prescribed under any applicable law with respect to any standards of conduct laid down in the Code, then, the Stakeholders shall comply with such stricter norms. No party (other than IndoStar) or any person claiming under any party will have any right or recourse in respect of any action or omission or claim of whatsoever nature against any of the employee for the non-compliance of this Code.

B. OBJECTIVE

The objective of this Code is to provide guidance to the Stakeholders of the organization, about good professional conduct and prohibited activities during the course of their employment or association with the Company, which are more specifically detailed herein below:

- To understand the collective corporate values of the Company and promote a just, fair and equitable work environment for all employees;
- To provide clarity on personal and professional responsibility of Stakeholders towards the Company and Company’s assets;
- To provide clarity on dealing with all customers, partners, vendors, service providers, consultants, government, media and community on a wide variety of issues relevant to the Company or the sector;

- To ensure that the highest legal, moral and ethical conduct is always adhered to.

C. DEALING WITH ETHICAL DILEMMA

In our Code we are focused on the most important principles and expectations rather than specifying detailed rules. It does not specifically address every potential form of unacceptable conduct, but our Stakeholders should make the right decisions when faced with difficult choices. Further, the core values should serve as the moral compass to help make decisions in routine, hazy, unclear, challenging or complex situations.

The following question should be asked in case of any ethical dilemma:

As a Company, our philosophy is that each of the Stakeholders, through self-regulation and individual responsibility, will take appropriate decisions and actions.

D. LETTER FROM OUR CEO

As custodians of our values, we believe that it is essential that we evolve our processes to reflect changes in the business environment. Aligning with our vision we are happy to share with you a revised Code. The revised Code is more comprehensive covering various aspects under the ambit of this single document. The revised Code incorporates new provisions in line with evolving governance practices. The Code summarizes the principles and policies that govern our Company. It reflects an extension of our culture of integrity and our continued commitment to ethical business practices.

Urge you to take the time to understand our refreshed Code. As you read this Code, be guided by its expectations and live out our values in your work every day. As we continue to transform and grow, we must keep our momentum and keep on winning by doing business ethically, honestly and with integrity. Each and every one of us are stewards of the IndoStar brand and have an important role to play.

If we continue to lead with integrity and live up to the values, there is nothing we can't achieve. Do not allow anything to compromise your integrity - not financial targets and not even competitive pressures. Each time you take the Code training, you renew that commitment.

We must seek guidance from our managers or other internal sources when we need it. Please use this Code and the resources described in it to help answer your questions or address your concerns. We all have the responsibility to raise compliance and ethical concerns. Please have the courage to speak if you see anything that appears to breach this Code. IndoStar will not tolerate retaliation against any employee who, in good faith, seeks guidance or reports a concern.

I trust every IndoStar colleague and anyone working with us will continue to not only comply with the laws and regulations that govern our business interests, but will also set new standards of ethical conduct that will generate deep respect and inspire emulation by others.
